

Discussion Questions

1. Before watching the film, what was your impression of what working in a steel mill is like? What did you think about working in a factory? Did the film change any of your previous perceptions?
2. What is something from the film that you learned that you didn't know before?
3. Do you have any questions after watching the film?
4. What sorts of things do you think the United States needs to do to grow and strengthen its steel industry and larger manufacturing base?